

Congratulations on your purchase of Commander™, our accessibly priced .1/LFE cable. Like our more expensive models, we designed this to have excellent full bandwidth performance. Commander's signature is very slightly warm sounding and full-bodied, emphasizing richness of tonality. Research has shown us that this assists subwoofers in the more affordable price ranges achieve a better balance of performance. The materials used in this copper cable – selected for its natural sonic balance – are of very high quality, as are the connectors that were developed specifically for this project. Like our more expensive models, these connectors feature a left-handed thread twist to facilitate easy removal during periodic maintenance or during system upgrades.
